Mr. Johnston like some other business men, is frequently hurrled about his meals, and as a consequence has twinges of dyspepsia. "Sometimes," he says, "there is a rising up of a sour. watery substance in the throat that is not pleasant. I keep a supply of those Tabules now, and whenever there is any trouble I take one. Guess I had better not tell how I take it when I am at home!" To the inquiry how he did take it the answer was given, "Your "In a gicss of beer." she?" "No, but she swears by them, though. Corcoran Cadets and the Merchants To the Editor of The Evening Star: In yesterday's issue of The Star appeared an article signed by "Taxpayer," in which he asserts that the Corcoran Cadet Corps contemplate awarding the contract for their new uniforms to an out-of-town bidder, the said uniforms to be paid for out of the proceeds of a fete, toward which Washington merchants are expected to contribute. A brief statement of facts will suffice to show that Mr. Taxpayer is a little hasty in his remarks. In 1885 the corps purchased from George F. Tims, corner of 7th and D streets northwest, forty uniforms, costing $600. In northwest, forty uniforms, costing $000. In 1887, from the same film, forty-five uniforms, costing $000. Same year, from Steinmetz & Sons, caps, costing $105. In 1889 our rull-dress uniforms (white coats), from Bradstreet, "The Clothier," 1415 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, costing $1,250. When the contract for the new uniforms is awarded Washington merchants may rest assured they shall receive the same consideration as heretofore. E. C. EDWARDS, Capt., Comm'd'g Corcoran Cadet Corps.

I am instructed by the directors to say that for the coming year an appropriation of $25,000 for the maintenance of the hospital and training school and $10,000 for the estimated cost of essential repairs to the main building are required, and the directors earnestly request your co-operation in obtaining these appropriations. It is not to be forgotten that the ownership of the hospital and grounds is in the United States, and that the hospital has no revenues except from an appropriation made by Congress and the moneys received from pay patients. By reason of the stringency of the times the income from this last source has been and is likely to be during the next year greatly diminished."
